The STILLEN Altima Sedan Front Lip Spoiler allows owners of the '07-'08 Altima Sedan to upgrade the appearance of their car without replacing the entire front fascia. Our STILLEN lip spoiler attaches to the factory bumper, providing a very noticeable styling upgrade. The STILLEN Front Lip Spoiler changes the attitude of the Altima, creating a unique and appealing look while working with the original bumper.

Perfectly integrating with the STILLEN Front Lip Spoiler or Fascia, our Urethane Rockers continue the styling upgrade along the side of the vehicle. These completely replace the factory side skirts, continuing the transformation of the profile and attitude of the Altima Sedan.

Out back the STILLEN Rear Deck Wing completes the package, adding a sporty finishing touch.

STILLEN understands that our customers want quality products that perform well and look great. In keeping with the STILLEN tradition, our urethane body kits are designed, prototyped, tested, and molded in our state of the art facilities in Costa Mesa, California. Care is taken to manage air flow while blending the lines of each part with the vehicle. The effect: A distinctive statement that looks and fits like an original factory product. Combine the Lip Spoiler with our Rockers, Rear Deck Wing and Roof Wing for a complete appearance upgrade.

All of STILLEN's urethane parts are durable and impact resistant made with the same urethane technology as factory bumpers. We guarantee our urethane components with a Limited Lifetime Warranty against cracking or breaking in normal use for as long as you own your vehicle.

We recommend painting and installation be done by an experienced and quality-oriented body/paint shop. Painting should always be done after an initial test fitment. More applications are available. For information, please contact us at 800-711-0310.
